Assistant Vice Chancellor
Academic Affairs, Student Academic Support

Code: AA-2005-05
February 23, 2005

To: CSU Provosts/Vice Presidents, Academic Affairs
Vice Presidents for Student Affairs

From: Allison G. Jones
Assistant Vice Chancellor, Student Academic Support

Subject: Delineation of CSU Service Areas for School-College Relations and the Current Local Areas for Impaction Purposes.

“CSU service areas” for school-college relations define the geographic territory assigned to each campus to better provide the following:

- (1) A decentralized communication and distribution point to supply systemwide information and materials about The California State University to counselors and pupil services personnel in high schools and community colleges.
- (2) A more personal and direct means for supplying prospective students and their family members with systemwide information and guidance concerning The California State University and general information about individual campuses.

School-college relations service areas were formalized in 1973 (coded memo SA 73-103) for the nineteen CSU campuses at the time. Since then, the inclusion of four new campuses created the need to review and adjust areas to redistribute responsibilities.

It should be emphasized that the area of service for school-college relations assigned to each campus is for systemwide representation only. It does not delimit the right or opportunity of any campus to communicate to high schools and community colleges about its own uniqueness because all campuses are statewide.

Consistent with coded memo SA 73-23, this delineation of “service areas” is not a basis for restricting admission applications from students in particular areas. There is no legal or policy basis for denying a student the right to file an application because he/she does not reside within the “service area” of a particular institution. Further, the definition of “service areas” for school-college relations purposes is not to preclude any college admission and school-college personnel from serving a particular institution or area but to ensure that no high school or community college is neglected.

Included with this memorandum are three attachments. Attachment "A" includes a description CSU School/College Relations Service Areas across most of California. Unless otherwise negotiated and mutually accepted, these areas also apply for the purposes of CSU services to secondary schools with regard to the Early Assessment Program (EAP).

Attachment "B" is comprised of a more detailed description of the delineation of School/College Service Area boundaries within the Los Angeles basin. Unless otherwise negotiated and mutually accepted, these areas also apply for the purposes of CSU services to secondary schools with regard to the Early Assessment Program (EAP).

Attachment "C" is a longer document in which a matrix of individual public high schools within the Los Angeles, Orange, and San Diego counties has been provided. This matrix displays the service area as well as the local area for admission impaction purposes for each high school. Non-public secondary schools have not been included, but it is presumed that the same geographical boundaries are used in categorizing the "service" and/or "local area" status of private, charter, and parochial schools.

The content of each of these attachments reflect delineations and assignments that exist as of February 2005 in consultation with admission officers and directors of outreach. Subject to consultation and the Chancellor's approval, subsequent changes may be made. Impaction plans are requested and submitted annually and apply to the next year's admission cycles. Specific school districts, which define a campus local area, must be specified in each impaction request for which a local area designation is relevant.

Questions concerning service areas and local area for admission impaction should be directed to Dr. James Blackburn. He can be reached by telephone at (562) 951-4726 or by e-mail at jblackburn@calstate.edu.
