Chair Gould called the meeting to order at 12:20 p.m.

Chair’s Report

Chair Gould stated that his report would be short in light of the extended hearing.

Chair Gould welcomed Kyriakos Tsakopoulos to the board and congratulated Bill Hauck for his reappointment to the board. The chair announced that this meeting was Trustee Murarka’s last meeting as a member of the board. In addition, he called the members’ attention to Mr. Murarka’s photograph that appeared in the May 7 issue of Time Magazine. At this time, Chair Gould turned the floor over to Trustee Murarka.

Trustee Murarka reported on a student leader meeting he organized to discuss statewide student public education issues. He stated that he had met with Chair Gould to talk about the outcomes of this meeting. Trustee Murarka thanked both Chancellor Reed and Bill Hauck for their support and financial assistance of this effort. Trustee Murarka also thanked the members of the Board and the Chancellor and his staff for their assistance and mentoring during his tenure.

Chair Gould thanked Trustee Murarka.

Chair Gould reported that the Board met in executive session to consider the three-year performance review of Chancellor Reed. He further stated that an open letter with the results of the deliberations was to be made available to the California State University community.

Chair Gould pointed out that soon every unit of paper currency would be signed by a California State graduate because the President of United States had just appointed a Cal State Los Angeles graduate as the treasurer of the United States so that we now have a secretary of the treasury from Fresno and a treasurer from Los Angeles.

Chair Gould thanked each of the trustees for taking the time out of their schedules so that each of the 22 campus graduations would have a trustee in attendance at their commencement ceremonies.

Chancellor’s Report

Chancellor Reed also welcomed Trustee Tsakopoulos to the board, congratulated Trustee Hauck for his reappointment to the board, and thanked Trustee Murarka for his work on the board.

Chancellor Reed reported that he would be working on the May budget revise over the next several weeks. He stated that the May revise contains $234 million in new money that provides for access for students and enrollment. He also reported that it cuts back on the compensation for faculty and staff but stated that work would continue on this aspect.

The Chancellor stated that the energy issue continues to be worrisome and emphasized the importance of the CSU doing its part on conservation even though year-round operations are coming into effect for the first time. He reported that he had met with the Presidents who all have a summer energy plan. He further stated that there will be ongoing monitoring of the energy issue.

Chancellor Reed noted the CSU’s bond rating as another worrisome matter. The CSU slipped one point and was on the watch list. He stated that work would continue in this area.

Chancellor Reed announced that there would be a legislative hearing on the education doctorate on June 12, 2001. He reported 37 co-sponsors in the legislature for the education doctorate and stated that staff is working to build additional sponsorship.

Chancellor Reed thanked President Welty for his leadership on the alcohol policy. He announced that the board would be asked to adopt this policy at the July meeting. He went on to say that the institutions are prepared to implement those policies beginning this fall and expressed his pleasure that California State University is going to take national leadership.

Chancellor Reed complimented all of the presidents for continuing to raise private funds. In particular, he noted the groundbreaking of $105 million Save Mart Center at Fresno; three million from the Annenberg Foundation and one million from the Berger Foundation for students in the desert; and other private gifts such as the $16 million from Paul Orfalea to San Luis Obispo and Marion Kremen’s generous gift to the College of Education at CSU Fresno.

Chancellor Reed noted several achievements by students and faculty. Among them, the Wang Awards for Outstanding Faculty, the Student Star Awards, and the outstanding number of community service hours given by CSU students to their communities. The Chancellor also thanked Shaun Lumachi and the CSSA board their leadership this past year.

Chancellor Reed congratulated and thanked three sports teams of the California State University. The Chico State Women’s Rugby Team, winners of the 2001 USA Division 1 Collegiate Women’s National Championship; the CSUDH Men’s Soccer Team for winning the NCAA Division II Championship and First Place in the California Collegiate Athletic Association; and the Cal Poly Pomona Women’s Basketball team for capturing the NCAA Division II National Championship and First Place title in the California Collegiate Athletic Association

Report of the CSU Alumni Council

Larry Adamson, president, reported for the Alumni Council

Report from the California State Student Association

Shaun Lumachi, chair, reported for the CSSA.

Report from the California Postsecondary Education Commission

Trustee Pesqueira referred the trustees to the report contained in their packets.

REPORT OF CHAIR LAURENCE K. GOULD, JR.
Board of Trustees
The California State University
May 16, 2001

In view of the extended hearing this morning, the Chair’s Report will be extraordinarily short. Yesterday we welcomed Kyriakos Tsakopoulos to the board and Bill Hauck back to the board, and today is the last day that Bubba is going to be on the Board of Trustees. In case you do not have a good color photograph of Bubba, you can look in last week’s edition of Time magazine and turn to page 54, where there is a big article about him. His smiling visage is there with a Cal Poly hat on. I promised Bubba that I would turn the meeting over to him, and so Neel Murarka, it is yours.

(Trustee Murarka takes the floor.)

Bubba, I would only like to add that you have been a tremendous addition to this board and we all have enjoyed serving with you. I am absolutely confident that years from now you will be returning to this table as a regular trustee appointed by some future governor and there is no doubt in my mind that you will one day be chairing this board and it will be in good hands.

I would like to report that yesterday the board met in executive session to consider the three-year performance review of Chancellor Reed. Just as we do with all of our presidents, we will be issuing an open letter to the CSU community with the results of our deliberations. I would like to add that there is someone in addition to Chancellor Reed who has been a great, great addition to this system, and that is his wife Cathy. Cathy and Chancellor Reed have opened the State University House to so many of us; to the staff, faculty, students, and administration, etc. I go to the Handel Evans tribute dinner and there is Cathy. I go to the Cal State Student Association and there is Cathy. She doesn’t get paid for this job. We also rate her an outstanding, outstanding CSU first lady and we would appreciate it if Chancellor Reed would pass that appreciation on to Cathy.

The other thing I need to point out is that the President of United States has appointed a Cal State Los Angeles graduate as the Treasurer of the United States, so that we now have a Secretary of the Treasury from Fresno and we have a Treasurer from L.A. Every unit of paper currency will now be signed by Cal State graduates. So, every time you look at a bill, please think that it ought to be coming back here to the CSU.

Finally to my fellow trustees, I want to thank all of you for what you are doing. Twenty-two campuses will have undergraduate commencement ceremonies. We’ll have trustees at all of those campus graduations and I thank you for taking the time out of your schedules to ensure that a trustee is present.

That concludes my report.
REPORT OF CHANCELLOR CHARLES B. REED
Board of Trustees
The California State University
May 16, 2001

I want to begin by welcoming our newest board member, Kyriakos Tsakopoulos, who was appointed by Governor Davis last week. He has a strong record of leadership and community involvement, and we know he will be an asset to this board. Kyriakos, we are all looking forward to working with you.

Next, I want to congratulate Bill Hauck on his reappointment to the Board of Trustees. Bill, you have served the California State University well and we are fortunate to have you back.

I also want to announce that former Trustee Ali Razi, who has served this board so well over the past few years, has been nominated to serve on the CSU’s Board of Governors. I am extremely pleased that we will have another opportunity to work with Ali. He has demonstrated through his past service that he is truly dedicated to the CSU.

As you heard from Richard West, Governor Davis has released his May Revise of the 2001/02 budget. Overall, we are pleased with this budget. All of our mandatory costs have been funded. This budget is especially good news for students. Our enrollment costs will be fully funded and there will be no fee increases. The Governor’s budget also comes with some good news for campuses in light of the current energy crisis. The CSU will receive a total of $34 million in one-time funds to compensate for natural gas cost increases. However, we are disappointed in the news about compensation for employees. Our 4% compensation pool is now down to 2%. We know that offering competitive compensation helps us to recruit and retain high-quality faculty and staff, which in turn allows us to offer a high-quality education. We will continue to make employee compensation a top priority in the months and years to come.

As Governor Davis made clear in the May Revise, this energy crisis is a major statewide concern. As a university system, we will need to spend a lot of time thinking about our energy consumption. We also may need to consider changing our operations to adapt to this energy crisis. I have been talking to the presidents about making some changes to CSU operations over the summer. We’re looking at working earlier hours, such as from 7 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. We’re also looking at the possibility of working four 10-hour days, and closing down Friday-Saturday-Sunday. This all comes at a time when we are increasing our summer operations on campus to provide greater access for our students. We will have to continue to assess how to meet our students’ needs while conserving energy and staying within our budget.
Over the past few weeks, California’s bond rating has dropped two notches. The CSU’s bond rating has dropped only one notch. I want to commend our staff – especially Rick Leffingwell – for working closely with the rating agency. We have made a solid case for how we are distinct from the state of California, and how there is a strong demand for the educational mission that the CSU provides.

There will be a hearing on the Education Doctorate issue in Sacramento on June 12. It looks like it will be a two-year bill. We have gotten a great deal of support for this effort from superintendents and other K-12 and community college leaders across the state, as well as from several newspapers. It also appears that we have good legislative support. The bill already has 35 co-sponsors.

I want to thank President Welty and everyone else who served on the Alcohol Policy Committee. We are sending $25,000 in matching funds to each campus to support alcohol abuse prevention efforts. That’s a total of $50,000 on each campus – $1.1 million dollars altogether for our system. I believe that this is an important effort and we need to make a strong commitment to leadership and action.

Speaking of President Welty, I had the opportunity to attend the groundbreaking ceremony of the Save Mart Center at Fresno State last week. The Save Mart Center is the largest privately funded project in the history of the California State University system. Several other CSU campuses have also been the recipients of generous private gifts in the last few weeks: The Annenberg Foundation announced a gift of $3 million to CSU San Bernardino’s Coachella Valley Center for the construction of a second building there. The H.N. and Frances C. Berger Foundation announced a second gift of $1 million, also for the Coachella Valley Center. Marian Kremen presented a gift of $4 million for Fresno State’s school of education. The Benjamin and Marion Kremen School of Education and Human Development will be the first named college of education in the CSU system. Cal Poly San Luis Obispo has named its business school the Orfalea College of Business in recognition of a $15 million gift from Kinko’s founder Paul Orfalea. All of this private support helps us build a margin of excellence at the CSU.

I want to reiterate my praise for this year’s Wang Family Excellence Award winners, whom we honored yesterday. These employees have made extraordinary contributions to the CSU and to their respective fields. Together, they represent just a sampling of the high-quality teaching and learning that is found throughout the CSU.

Also, at the State University House on the evening before Cesar Chavez Day, the CSU recognized 21 students from around the CSU system who have shown outstanding leadership in community service. We gave them the STARS awards, which stands for Students That Are Recognized For Service.

Community service is one of the many areas in which our students distinguish themselves. Remember, our students performed a total of 33.6 million hours of community service last year.

In a few moments, we will recognize some other outstanding CSU students when we honor two CSU athletic teams.

Before that, I want to congratulate the Chico State Women’s Rugby Team, which just won the 2001 USA Rugby Division 1 Collegiate Women’s National Championship. President Esteban, please give my best wishes to this outstanding team.

Mr. Chair, that concludes my report.

Conferral of the Title President Emeritus

Presentation by

Laurence K. Gould, Jr.
Chair

It is proposed that the title President Emeritus be conferred on departing California Maritime Academy president Jerry A. Aspland.

Background

In 1971 the Board of Trustees adopted a policy governing the award of the title of Emeritus to executives who retire from regular service. The policy set three standards; these are:

1) Emeritus status may be granted to an executive upon retirement from regular service in the California State University.

2) Recommendations for emeritus status may be made by the Board or by the Chancellor to the Board upon receipt of recommendation from constituent groups of the campus, such as the faculty, the student body, or the advisory board.

3) The granting of emeritus status carries the title Emeritus and courtesies, but no compensation.

On the advice of members of the Board, Chair Gould recommends that Jerry A. Aspland be recognized for his dedicated service to the California State University and to the citizens of California.

The follow resolution is presented for approval:

WHEREAS, Jerry A. Aspland was named in 1996 to the presidency of the California Maritime Academy, the institution from which he graduated in 1962, beginning a second career as an educational leader after his success as a business leader in the maritime industry; and
WHEREAS, During the five years of his tenure, his leadership has provided numerous advances for Cal Maritime, including the near doubling of its enrollment, the improvement of a host of training facilities, including a new state-of-the-art laboratory, and the introduction of a second summer training cruise which greatly expanded student opportunities for hands-on learning; and

WHEREAS, He has also worked tirelessly to create further cooperative ties with the other members of the California State University community, as well as helping to earn expanded accreditation approval for its educational programs, thus raising the profile and increasing the esteem with which this venerable institution is held; and

WHEREAS, It is altogether fitting that the California State University recognize those members who have made valuable contributions to this system of higher education; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, By the Board of Trustees of the California State University, that this board confer the title of President Emeritus on Jerry A. Aspland, with all the rights and privileges thereto.
