

2017 ERWC LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE

CREATING A 21ST CENTURY ERWC: Connecting the Best of the Past and the Present to the Future

ERWC (Expository Reading and Writing Curriculum) teachers and other interested professionals are invited to a one-day leadership conference. Come hear about the changes in store for ERWC, strengthen your knowledge of the current curriculum and pedagogy, and give us your reactions!

The next edition of the course will include a streamlined assignment template, new modules, expanded use of literary texts, and digital and multi-modal strategies. We will be deepening our treatment of rhetoric and addressing issues of media literacy as well as crafting modules for industry pathways and instruction for integrated and designated English language development. Concurrent sessions will feature presentations on these and other topics in addition to focus groups designed to solicit your views. Your input is important to us as ERWC moves into the 21st century!
