

NSF Collaborative Graduate Training Program

Marine Disturbance Ecology

- Perform research on how storm waves and other disturbances affect marine communities
- Acquire training in GIS and Spatial Statistics.
- Participate in research expeditions to field sites.
- Take special Ecology workshops at UCLA, Cal State Monterey Bay and Cal State LA.
- $25,000 grad research stipends + expenses.
- Support to attend national conferences.

For additional information contact:

Dr. Carlos Robles crobles@exchange.calstatela.edu

Dr. Corey Garza cogarza@csumb.edu

Dr. Patricia Halpin halpin@ucla.edu

