

2011 Fall Faculty Travel Awards

December 14, 2011

CSUPERB made 7 travel awards to California State University (CSU) faculty from 6 different campuses, totaling $8,564 this month. The Faculty Travel Grant Program supports travel for data collection, as well as to biotechnology-related professional meetings and workshops.

The following grants were approved:

1. Jason Bush (Biology, CSU Fresno)
Award: $1,385 for travel to present research results at the 8th Annual US Human Proteome Organization Meeting (March 4-7, 2012) in San Francisco, California
2. Randy Cohen (Biology, CSU Northridge)
Award: $939 for travel to present research results at the Society for Neuroscience Conference (November 13-16, 2011) in Washington, DC
3. Edward Eivers (Biological Sciences, CSU Los Angeles)
Award: $1,500 for travel to present research results at the 53rd Annual Drosophila Research Conference (March 7-11, 2012) in Chicago, Illinois
4. Ahmad Hadaegh (Computer Science & Information Systems, CSU San Marcos)
Award: $610 for travel to present research results at the American Chemical Society, Western Regional Meeting (November 10-12, 2011) in Pasadena, California
5. Alexander Small (Physics, Cal Poly Pomona)
Award: $1,130 for travel to present research results at the Biophysical Society Annual Meeting (February 25-29, 2012) in San Diego, California
6. William Stumph (Chemistry and Biochemistry, San Diego State University)
Award: $1,500 for travel to present research results at the Keystone Symposia on Eukaryotic Transcription and Non-coding RNAs (March 31 - April 5, 2012) in Snowbird, Utah
7. Roland Wolkowicz (Biology, San Diego State University)
Award: $1,500 for travel to present research results at the 2nd World Congress on Biotechnology (November 29 - December 1, 2011) in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

For more information about this program, see the CSUPERB website

(<http://www.calstate.edu/csUPERB/grants/faculty-travel-program/>), contact James Schmitt, CSUPERB Program Administrator (jschmitt@sciences.sdsu.edu) or contact Susan Baxter, CSUPERB Executive Director (sbaxter@mail.sdsu.edu).