Disability

The California State University does not discriminate on the basis of disability in admission or access to, or treatment or employment in, its programs and activities. Federal laws, including sections 504 and 508 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, as amended, and various state laws prohibit such discrimination. Each CSU campus has designated an office to coordinate its efforts of to comply with all relevant disability laws. Inquiries concerning compliance may be addressed to the campus Office of Services to Students with Disabilities.

Sex/Gender

The California State University does not discriminate on the basis of sex, gender or sexual orientation in the educational programs or activities it conducts. How to Apply to the CSU

To apply online for admission to any of the 23 CSU campuses, please visit CSUMentor at www.csumentor.edu. CSUMentor is available 24 hours, 7 days a week. For technical support, help is always available by calling (800) GO-TO-XAP or (800) 468-6927 or by e-mail at: support@CSU-Mentor.edu.

If you are completing your application online, your completed admission application will be forwarded automatically to the campus(es) of your choice.

If you are not able to use the CSU web-based application, you may obtain an application by downloading a PDF file from the CSUMentor website. Instructions on how to download a PDF application and where to send it are also provided at www.csumentor.edu or at http://www.csumentor.edu/AboutMentor/counselor_educator/pdfs/freshman_instructions.pdf. To print a PDF version of the CSU application, go to: www.csumentor.edu/Support/tech_support.asp#application. You may submit the completed PDF application to the admission office at the campus(es) where you want to apply. Almost all CSU applications for admission are submitted online. Check the application filing dates of the campus you are interested in to be sure applications are still being accepted.

Where do I send my transcripts?

Transcripts and Supplementary Materials—Most campuses require applicants to file official transcript(s) in sealed envelopes from each college or university previously attended. You should arrange to have those official transcripts sent at the same time you submit your application to the campus where you are applying for. Since some departments require additional forms or information, applicants should consult the appropriate catalog and/or major department offering the program to determine the documents and other information needed.

How do I qualify for admission?

Admission Requirements—Graduate and post-baccalaureate applicants may apply for a master's, an Ed.D., a joint doctoral degree, a credential objective, or a certificate objective. Depending on the objective, the CSU will consider an application for admission as follows:

General Requirements—The minimum requirements for admission to graduate and postbaccalaureate studies at a California State University campus are in accordance with university regulations as well as Title 5, chapter 1, subchapter 3 of the California Code of Regulations. Specifically, you will qualify for admission if you:

- (a) have completed a four-year college course of study and hold an acceptable four-year baccalaureate degree from an institution accredited by a regional accrediting association or shall have completed equivalent academic preparation as determined by appropriate campus authorities;
- (b) are in good academic standing at the last college or university attended;
- (c) have satisfied any one of the following three numbered conditions:
 - (1) have attained a grade point average (gpa) of at least 2.5 in an acceptable earned baccalaureate degree,
 - (2) have attained a gpa of at least 2.5 in the last 60 semester (90 quarter) units attempted,
 - (3) hold an acceptable post-baccalaureate degree earned at an institution accredited by a regional accrediting association; and
- (d) satisfactorily meet the professional, personal, scholastic, and other standards for graduate study, including qualifying examinations or other screening processes as appropriate campus authorities may prescribe. In unusual circumstances, a campus may make exceptions to these criteria. Some campuses require a higher grade point average for specific programs.

Second baccalaureate candidates use the undergraduate CSU application. Second baccalaureate candidates must meet general postbaccalaureate requirements. Some campuses do not admit second baccalaureate candidates. If you meet the minimum requirements for graduate and postbaccalaureate studies, you may be considered for admission in one of the following four categories:

Graduate Financial Aid Information

Postbaccalaureate Unclassified—To enroll in courses for professional or personal growth, you must be admitted as a postbaccalaureate unclassified student. By meeting the general requirements, you may become eligible for admission as a postbaccalaureate unclassified student. Most departments or campuses may restrict or even prohibit the enrollment of unclassified students. Admission in this status does not constitute admission to or assurance of consideration for admission to any specific graduate degree or credential program.

Postbaccalaureate Classified—If you wish to enroll in a credential or certificate program, you will be required to satisfy additional professional, personal, scholastic, and other standards, including qualifying examinations or other screening processes prescribed by the campus.

Graduate Conditionally Classified—You may be admitted to a graduate degree program in this category if, in the opinion of appropriate campus authority, you can remedy admission deficiencies by additional preparation.

Graduate Classified—To pursue a graduate degree, you will be required to fulfill all of the professional, personal, scholastic, and other standards, including qualifying examinations, prescribed by the campus.

Program Limitations—Some graduate programs are able to admit all qualified applicants (those with a baccalaureate degree from an accredited university or college and a minimum grade point average of 2.5 in the last 60 semester or 90 quarter units attempted) who apply while applications are “open.” Other specific programs have established higher standards for admission. Generally, your chances of being accommodated will be better the earlier you apply in the filing period. Inquire with the campus about possible limitations on enrollment in second bachelor’s programs.

Choice of Campus—You may file an application with any CSU campus. To be considered by more than one campus, you must submit an application and fee to each campus.

Selection of Degree or Credential Objective—Majors and credential programs offered by the CSU campuses are listed in the CSU majors/degrees matrix. Because the contents of similarly named programs may differ from campus to campus, you should consult the appropriate campus catalog before filing an application.

The CSU has separate requirements and application filing dates for the admission of international students. Some campuses require a supplemental international student application. Consult the international admission office of the campus where you plan to apply. You may also go to: www.csumentor.edu/admissionapp/intl_apply.asp

The California State University provides financial assistance in the form of grants, scholarships, fellowships, loans, and part-time employment for students who meet financial aid program eligibility requirements.* If you believe you will not be able to pay for all of your educational costs, you are encouraged to apply for financial aid.

CSU financial aid awards are contingent upon continued funding from federal and state government programs. International students who are in the United States on F-1 or F-2 student visas and students who are not citizens or eligible noncitizens are not eligible to receive federal- or state-funded financial aid and should not apply.*

How to Apply for Financial Aid—You must complete and submit the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) each year between January 1 and March 2 to be considered for priority filing for the fall term. All campuses will continue to accept applications after the priority filing date and will make awards as long as funds are available. The FAFSA and other student aid information are available at the U.S. Department of Education’s website, www.fafsa.gov. The FAFSA can be accessed through www.csumentor.edu.

Financial aid funds cannot be transferred from one CSU campus to another. Therefore, if you change your choice of CSU campuses, you must notify the FAFSA processing service of the name of your alternative campus if you did not originally include it on your FAFSA. You may do this by accessing your FAFSA online and add institutions on your school list.

When claiming California residence and completing this form outside California, it must be subscribed and sworn to before a person authorized to administer oaths, such as a notary public.

Tuition Fee Refund Policy — Tuition Fees may be refunded only as authorized by Section 41802 of Title 5, California Code of Regulations. Details concerning the fees that may be refunded, the circumstances under which they may be refunded, and the appropriate procedure to be followed in seeking a refund may be obtained from the office of admission and records on each campus.

Use of the Social Security Number — You are required to include your Social Security Number (or taxpayer identification number) on admission application forms to all CSU campuses pursuant to Section 41201, Title 5, California Code of Regulations. CSU campuses use the Social Security Number to identify your student records maintained in connection with your association with the campus and, if needed, to help collect debts owed the university. Your Social Security Number may be written on your application fee check to facilitate the processing of your fee payment. Also, the Internal Revenue Service requires the university to file information that includes the student's Social Security Number and other information, such as the amount paid for qualified tuition, related expenses, and interest on educational loans. That information is used to help determine whether you, or a person claiming you as a dependent, may take a credit or deduction to reduce federal income taxes.

If you do not have a Social Security Number at the time you file the application, you may leave the item blank and the campus will assign a temporary number. However, you should obtain a Social Security Number, unless you are prohibited by law from doing so, and submit it to the university by the time you begin enrollment. Failure to furnish your correct Social Security Number may result in the imposition of a penalty by the Internal Revenue Service.
