Better Together: California Teachers Summit 2015 Media Coverage

Teachers to teach teachers at statewide Common Core summit
EdSource– June 23, 2015
Thousands of California teachers, who’ve spent recent years simultaneously learning and teaching the new Common Core State Standards, will share ideas about what has worked best in their classrooms at a multi-site conference on July 31.

Better Together: California Teachers Summit 2015
89.3 KPCC– July 9, 2015
On July 31, more than 20,000 teachers from across the state will gather for Better Together: California Teachers Summit, a one-of-a-kind event designed to help teachers build a powerful network of peers across regions, share best practices and access effective resources to implement the new California Standards.

St. Mary's College Selected As Host For CA Teachers Summit In July
Patch.com– July 10, 2015
From Michael McAlpin of Saint Mary's College of California: The Kalmanovitz School of Education (KSOE) at Saint Mary's College of California has been selected as a host for the Better Together: California Teachers Summit.

Saint Mary's campus one of 33 'California Teachers Summit' sites
Contra Costa Times– July 24, 2015
Saint Mary's College's Kalmanovitz School of Education will be one link in an enormous, one-day multisite chain as one of 33 host sites for the statewide "Better Together: California Teachers Summit" July 31.

Teachers Unite
The Salinas Californian– July 27, 2015
Salinas-area teachers are invited to attend the first of its kind teacher summit next week. The free, one-day event is being held statewide. CSUMB is one of the host campuses.

Education Briefs: June 28, 2015
Appeal-Democrat– June 28, 2015
Brandman University in Yuba City is hosting one of 33 groups gatherings of the "Better Together: California Teacher Summit 2015." The event, at locations throughout the state, is to help teachers learn from each other, share practices in implementing new California standards and celebrate their work.
Statewide teacher summit to focus on Common Core
Fresno Bee– July 29, 2015
Thousands of teachers across the state will meet at different locations on Friday to discuss Common Core standards and share teaching strategies and resources.

Building teacher communities with summits
The San Diego Union-Tribune– July 30, 2015
California State University San Marcos is one of more than 30 sites across the state co-hosting innovative educator summits designed to help teachers share strategies and build teacher communities.

Teachers summit draws thousands to sites across California
EdSource – July 31, 2015
The free event was organized by California State University, the Santa Cruz-based New Teacher Center and an association of the state’s independent private colleges and was funded by the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation.

15,000 CALIFORNIA TEACHERS GATHER FOR EDUCATION SUMMIT
ABC 7 News – July 31, 2015
"It's not about covering a certain number of topics within an amount of time, it's really developing students' ability to think critically, to think analytically, to read and write in a much higher level, to see connections between disciplines," San Jose State University's Elaine Chin said.

Summit shows that teachers are better together
Turlock Journal– July 31, 2015
Teaching credential student Bailee Hobbs was just one of the approximately 300 participants at the Better Together: California Teachers Summit, held Friday at California State University, Stanislaus.

North state teachers attend summit at Chico State linked to campuses statewide
Chico Enterprise record – July 31, 2015
When dozens of teachers begin classes in the next few weeks, they’ll arrive equipped with some fresh thoughts and ideas.

Educators gather for California teachers summit
CBS 8 – July 31, 2015
Thousands of teachers gathered at nearly three dozen college campuses across California Friday, including locations in San Diego, for a conference designed to allow educators to network and share strategies for implementing new statewide teaching standards.
Teachers gather for summit at Cal State Los Angeles
Los Angeles Wave– July 31, 2015
Nearly 500 educators and school administrators filled the Golden Eagle Ballroom at Cal State L.A. Friday for the Better Together: California Teachers Summit.

Sacramento educators share teaching strategies
Sacramento Bee – July 31, 2015
Mari Edwards and Elizabeth Karl sat on a bench sharing notes Friday about what they’d learned during the first half of the California Teachers Summit at Sacramento State.

Education summit: Valley teachers 'do better together'
The Desert Sun – July 31, 2015
Nearly 200 teachers from across the valley gathered at the Better Together California Teacher’s Summit Friday to share success stories and teaching strategies for the upcoming school year.

Brandman campuses home to a day of inspiration for teachers
Brandman News Now– July 31, 2015
Brandman University filled all its seats for the Better Together: California Teachers Summit 2015. Teachers gathered at the Irvine, Roseville, Victorville, Visalia and Yuba City campuses on Friday, July 31, to hear keynote speakers Yvette Nicole Brown and Leland Melvin and a variety of local speakers talk about how teachers had inspired them and how techniques they use in the classroom can help other teachers.

CSU campuses play host to teacher summits
San Bernardino County Sun– July 31, 2015
Her words rang true, based on the number of teachers in attendance Friday at Cal State Long Beach who took time out of their summer to learn more about the craft of education.

Teachers seek tips from each other in special one-day conference
Ventura County Star– July 31, 2015
School is still out, but for almost 200 Ventura County teachers and thousands more across the state, Friday was a big day for learning.

Local educators gather for California Teachers Summit
Dozens of local educators and school administrators gathered at Brandman University in Victorville on Friday morning, part of an estimated 20,000 teachers from across the state meeting at 33 locations for a free event designed for teachers to network and share practices addressing Common Core.
Teachers share Common Core experiences
San Diego Union Tribune – August 1, 2015
The two largest gatherings took place in San Diego — at the Town and Country Resort — and Pasadena. Another San Diego County conference was held at Cal State San Marcos.

Stanislaus State joins statewide teacher conference, site of live-stream feed
Modesto Bee – August 1, 2015
Add conferences to the list of things technology has made over. The Better Together California Teachers Summit took place at 33 sites Friday, including California State University, Stanislaus. Besides an event phone app, the sites shared video feeds from keynote speakers. Folks at home could follow along through social media and a live stream from the Turlock campus, broadcasting the videos, speakers who called in and online chats.