W. Ann Reynolds, Chancellor

Date: November 15, 1983
On October 31, 1983, the Governor issued Executive Order D-26-83 to restrict personnel actions for the period of November 1, 1983 through January 31, 1984. The stated intent of the restriction addresses:

"WHEREAS, the fiscal crisis existent in January 1983 necessitated a series of actions including a freeze on hiring, various program cuts and a provision for an increase in the sales tax in January 1984, if there is not an estimated reserve in excess of $100 million at the end of the 1983-84 fiscal year; and

WHEREAS, at the present time in the absence of a continued freeze, it is not possible to determine whether the pattern of future expenditures and revenues will leave a reserve in excess of $100 million at the end of the 1983-84 fiscal year; and

WHEREAS, many state departments have implemented a variety of operational efficiencies as a result of the existing freeze which should be evaluated and included in the 1984-85 budget for both the current and budget years, and

WHEREAS, the benefits of these efficiencies should not be jeopardized prior to the review for their permanent implementation, and the assurance that the January sales tax trigger will not be implemented."

The CSU was invited to "participate in this endeavor".

After review of the Executive Order and an examination of its intent, it is our judgment that participation by the CSU in the specifics of this new hiring restriction is not practical, particularly, as it pertains to the State Restriction of Appointment List. However, in keeping with the spirit of the Governor's Executive Order, each campus president is requested to take all actions necessary to minimize the hiring of new employees without jeopardizing the maintenance and staffing of instructional programs. The Office of the State Controller will be notified by copy of this memo of the CSU position in the current freeze process.

Any questions regarding this memo or the Governor's Executive Order should be directed to Mr. Louis V. Messner or Mr. Howard S. Hicks in the Office of Budget Planning and Administration.
