Recruitment Resources to Narrow the Diversity Gap

The CSU is committed to eliminating the state's teacher shortage so that all public school students have access to well-prepared teachers. We are also committed to narrowing the diversity gap between the state's public school teachers and students. In 2016-17, students of color out-numbered teachers of color by 42 percentage points.

The collection of strategies on the Recruitment Resources page are designed to help the CSU and other teacher preparation programs recruit well-qualified candidates of color to the teaching profession.

Resources for Teaching in Diverse Classrooms

All teachers must be prepared to work with culturally and linguistically diverse students, and to meet student needs that reflect the full range of human diversity. They must be prepared to assure the academic success, social emotional learning, and well-being of every student.

The resources on the Teaching in Diverse Classrooms page are designed to support the preparation of all teacher candidates to address the needs of diverse students, families and schools, ensuring just and equitable, and inclusive educational practices, and advancing equity and excellence for all learners.
