Summary

The California State University (CSU) suspended the use of standardized test scores for the 2021-22 and 2022-23 academic years for undergraduate admission due to the COVID-19 pandemic and the unavailability of examinations for prospective applicants. Preceding this temporary action, the CSU had been engaged in an ongoing discussion about admission eligibility. In spring 2021, the CSU’s Admission Advisory Council (AAC), comprised of faculty, administrators and students, was asked to consider the future use of standardized testing in CSU undergraduate admission. In addition to consideration of pandemic-related hardships and concerns brought forth by PK-12 school districts and community-based organizations, the committee considered equity and fairness, academic preparation, Graduation Initiative 2025 goals and extensive research on the topic of standardized testing and college admission as part of its deliberations.

Although standardized test scores have a long tradition in higher education, dating back to 1901, the council found that standardized tests provide negligible additional value to the CSU admission process. The negative impact of stress on students, families and high schools as well as the consistent differential tests results between students in more affluent communities relative to less affluent communities cannot be ignored. Ultimately, the council recommended the permanent discontinuation of the use of standardized test scores in CSU undergraduate admissions.

Background

The AAC met monthly between January and May 2021 to focus specifically on the topic of standardized test scores and the admission process. Ad-hoc members were added to the council to provide additional perspectives on this topic, including the chair of the CSU Statewide Academic Senate, the president of the California State Student Association and a representative from the California Department of Education. In parallel to this work, the University of California (UC) initiated a process to formally reconsider the use of standardized testing in its admission eligibility and selection processes. The UC reviewed the role of the SAT and ACT exams in the UC system, ultimately recommending a phased discontinuation of both exams and the creation of a new UC-specific admission examination. Following a lawsuit filed by school districts and community organizations and resulting injunction, the UC determined it would no longer utilize any standardized examinations in admission.

Minimum Eligibility for CSU Admission

A first-year student is considered a student who has earned no college credit after the summer immediately following high school graduation. Prior to the 2021-22 academic year, first-year students were required to meet the following eligibility requirements:

- Be a high school graduate.
- Complete the 15-unit comprehensive “a-g” course pattern of college preparatory study with a grade of C or better. The “a-g” subjects are: History and Social Science; English; Math; Laboratory Science; Language Other Than English; Visual and Performing Arts; and College Preparatory Elective.
- Earn an eligibility index that qualifies for admission.

The eligibility index is a weighted combination of the high school grade point average (GPA) during the final three years of high school and a score on either the SAT or ACT. All grades earned in “a-g” courses taken in the sophomore, junior or senior year are used to calculate the GPA.

The CSU eligibility index formula is calculated by using either the SAT or ACT as follows:

- SAT (mathematics and evidence-based reading and writing scores) + GPA x 800
- ACT (10 x ACT composite score without the writing score) + GPA x 200

Graduates of California high schools or residents of California, as defined for tuition purposes, needed to have a minimum eligibility index of 2,950 using the SAT or 694 using the ACT. Nonresidents of California, as defined for tuition purposes, must have a minimum index of 3,570 using the SAT or 842 using the ACT.

With the temporary suspension of standardized testing as a result of the pandemic, the CSU established criteria for CSU minimum eligibility and campus eligibility for impacted programs and campuses for the 2021-22 and 2022-23 academic years. CSU minimum eligibility is based currently on high school graduation, or equivalent, “a-g” GPA and “a-g” course requirements.
Impacted campuses, programs and second-tier GPA student admission criteria is based on a combination of academic and non-academic factors.

For the 2021-22 and 2022-23 academic years, CSU minimum eligibility requires a student: to be a high school graduate or equivalent; have completed the 15-unit comprehensive “a-g” pattern of college preparatory courses with a grade of “C” or better; and earned a qualifying “a-g” grade point average. California residents and graduates of California high schools will be eligible for admission by earning a 2.5 or greater “a-g” GPA.

To ensure no students were unfairly excluded from admission consideration during the pandemic, the CSU provided the ability for campuses to review applicants with a GPA lower than 2.5 using additional admission criteria. Any California high school graduate or resident of California earning a GPA between 2.00 and 2.49 may be evaluated for admission based upon supplemental factors. Non-California residents may be eligible for admission to the CSU by earning a 3.0 or greater “a-g” GPA along with other supplemental factors utilized by the individual campus, including those outlined by impacted campuses and programs. Any non-California residents earning a GPA between 2.47 and 2.99 may be evaluated for admission based upon supplemental factors.

Impacted Campuses/Programs and Multi-Factor Admission Score

In lieu of an eligibility index, CSU campuses are calculating a Multi-Factor Admission Score (MFAS) based on a number of supplemental factors. During this interim period, CSU campuses continue to have autonomy and wide latitude in determining an admissions evaluation approach that is best suited to their enrollment management priorities and needs. Campuses ensure that “a-g” GPA and academic preparation are the most heavily weighed variables. Campuses determined their specific value scale so that each variable can be quantified, and an objective review of applicants can take place. CSU campuses evaluated the admission factors that were available, based on admission application information, and chose a combination of factors that would work best for them. Campuses are not using all factors, but only a subset that best fit their campuses requirements. They are:

1. “a-g” GPA
2. English GPA
3. Laboratory science GPA
4. Math/Quantitative reasoning GPA
5. History GPA
6. Language other than English (LOTE) GPA
7. “a-g” courses beyond 15 years/30 semesters
8. Number of History courses
9. Number of Language other than English (LOTE) courses
10. Number of Math/Quantitative reasoning courses
11. College Promise/Partnership programs
12. Free and Reduced Lunch School (66%+)
13. First generation student status
14. Qualification for an application fee waiver
15. Participation in college preparation educational programs
16. Foster youth student
17. Military status
18. Work experience
19. Extracurricular activities
20. Leadership roles
21. Local Admission Priority (if applicable)

Evaluating Predictive Nature of Standardized Test Scores

In March 2019, Kurlaender and Cohen published a study that reviewed how well high school GPA, Smarter Balanced Assessment (SBAC) and SAT predict first year outcomes of first-time freshman enrolled at the CSU and UC. The SBAC, administered in Grade 11 in California public high schools, provides a standards-aligned assessment to determine students’ progress toward college and career readiness. This report confirmed that high school GPA is a stronger predictor of first-year college GPA and second-year persistence then either the SBAC or SAT for CSU students who enrolled as first-time freshman in 2016-2017.

In January 2020, the CSU Office of the Chancellor’s Institutional Research and Analyses department used the same methodology and studied the incoming fall 2018 first-year student cohort. The 2018 cohort also took the revised SAT that was introduced in 2016. The department’s findings confirmed, neither SBAC nor the revised SAT add additional predictive value over high school GPA for first year student outcomes. The following is a high-level summary:

First-Year GPA
- High school GPA is much stronger predictor relative to either the revised SAT or SBAC alone.
- SBAC alone predicts marginally better than SAT alone overall and for several subgroups.
- The combination of high school GPA/SAT and high school GPA/SBAC does a little better than high school GPA alone.
- Including all three scores does not improve predicted outcomes.

First-Year Retention
- Consistent with other analyses, the overall predictive power of high school GPA and test scores on retention is much lower than GPA alone.
- SBAC alone is slightly more correlated than SAT alone for low-income students.
• There is no improvement in prediction by using high school GPA with additional test scores overall.

First-Year Term Units Attempted
• Test scores are as predictive as high school GPA alone for most groups.
• SAT and SBAC perform similarly.
• Inclusion of both scores with high school GPA does not improve the prediction.

Recommendations

As the CSU continues to adapt and innovate in response to the COVID-19 pandemic, it does so with a focused and unwavering commitment to its core values and strategic priorities. Graduation Initiative 2025, dedicated to both enhancing and increasing student access and success as well as eliminating educational equity gaps, remains at the forefront of CSU decisions. It is in this spirit that the Admission Advisory Council recommends the permanent discontinuation of the use of the SAT and ACT standardized test scores in CSU undergraduate admissions.

It is also noted that although the GPA is a strong predictor of students’ ability to be successful in college, there can be differences of opportunities across school districts. For example, the availability of honors and Advanced Placement courses can differ across school districts. This can impact the ability for students to earn a higher “a-g” GPA. Utilizing additional factors in the calculation of CSU Minimum Eligibility will provide for a more well-rounded set of variables for admission evaluation. Subsequent to the discontinuation of the use of SAT and ACT standardized exams, the Admission Advisory Council will provide recommendations to the Chancellor on the organization of remaining admission eligibility factors into clear, concise, equitable categories that can easily be communicated to and understood by prospective students, families and PK-12 educators.

In advancing the recommendation by the AAC, the proposed amendment to Title 5 would remove references to the SAT and ACT standardized entrance examinations as part of eligibility for CSU undergraduate admission requirements.

The following resolution is proposed for adoption:

RESOLVED, by the Board of Trustees of the California State University, acting under the authority prescribed herein and pursuant to Section 66205 of the Education Code, to amend Section 40601, 40751 and 40801 of Title 5 of the California Code of Regulations and delete Sections 40752 and 40802, respectively replacing them with 40752.1 and 40802.1, which are being renumbered to 40752 and 40802. These amendments are as follows:
