

CSUNIVERSE

CSU campuses offer plenty of reasons to visit. These hidden gems merit a road trip up and down the state.

Each campus has a unique story and a fun treasure site to visit—in person or virtually. Test your trivia knowledge of the CSU's 23 campuses by matching the correct site description to its campus on the next page.

- | | | | |
|-----------------------|------------------------|-----------------------------|-----------------------------|
| 1 CSU Bakersfield | 7 Cal State Fullerton | 13 CSUN | 19 San José State |
| 2 CSU Channel Islands | 8 Humboldt State | 14 Cal Poly Pomona | 20 Cal Poly San Luis Obispo |
| 3 Chico State | 9 Cal State Long Beach | 15 Sacramento State | 21 CSU San Marcos |
| 4 CSU Dominguez Hills | 10 Cal State LA | 16 Cal State San Bernardino | 22 Sonoma State |
| 5 Cal State East Bay | 11 Cal Maritime | 17 San Diego State | 23 Stanislaus State |
| 6 Fresno State | 12 CSU Monterey Bay | 18 San Francisco State | |

CSUNIVERSE

Test your knowledge of the 23 campuses by matching the object or site description to the correct CSU campus.

_____ On a clear day, you can see from this campus across the bay to the peninsula and even the San Francisco skyline.

_____ One of the largest pyramids in the U.S. is located on this campus. It stands 18 stories tall and attracts more than 200,000 visitors annually for men's and women's basketball and volleyball games.

_____ An artist has been commissioned to create a collection of artwork that will be housed within the Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Library on this campus.

_____ This waterfront campus is part of the San Francisco Bay Trail. Visitors may see the academy's historic boathouse and the 500-foot training ship Golden Bear, when it's in port.

_____ Redwood trees on this campus sprouted from seeds carried into space aboard the Apollo 14 lunar module that orbited the moon.

_____ The Holocaust and Genocide Memorial Grove at this campus honors survivors and victims of genocides worldwide.

_____ On this campus, you can find small-batch ice cream, with Bulldog Tracks—vanilla ice cream with marble chocolate fudge swirl and peanut butter cups—being the most popular flavor.

_____ A Pulitzer Prize-nominated author published his first work of fiction while attending this CSU campus.

_____ On this campus, "fog collectors" resembling trampolines standing on end are used for research to study poor visibility and air pollution caused by fog.

_____ The astronomical observatory on this tree-studded campus is not visible from the street but offers a view of the stars.

_____ This campus unveiled its first outdoor public art in 1997, a bronze statue of famed civil rights activist César Chávez. It now represents the heart of campus life.

_____ A village of small mythological creatures, diminutive in size, helps to combat drainage issues on this campus.

_____ This campus library houses a ring of Helena Blavatsky, Russian spiritualist and co-founder of the Theosophical Society.

_____ The orange grove on this campus has more than 400 Valencia orange trees on approximately five acres.

_____ The printing museum on this campus celebrates 50 years in 2020. It contains rare letterpress equipment, over 500 fonts of handset type and a variety of printing papers.

_____ The elegant full-service restaurant on this campus offers an eclectic menu prepared and served by students in the university's restaurant operations and hospitality management classes.

_____ This campus is home to the largest botanical garden in Orange County, spanning 26 acres of trees as well as rare and endangered plants.

_____ The statue of this nocturnal bird is meant to inspire lifelong learning and has become a place where students flock to eat lunch, study and chat when on campus.

_____ This campus is home to the W.K. Kellogg Arabian Horse Center and has the longest continuous Arabian horse breeding program in the United States.

_____ This mountain is a sacred site to the Chumash indigenous people, who inhabited the land upon which the campus stands.

_____ The museum of art on this campus has the largest display of ancient Egyptian antiquities in the western United States, encompassing centuries of history.

_____ The planetarium is the centerpiece of this campus's new science complex. The 360-degree dome features public astronomy shows hosted by campus faculty members.

_____ This campus was the site of the XXIII Olympiad judo events in 1984. "Olympic Fantasy," a mosaic tile work by muralist Guillermo "Bill" Granizo, was installed to commemorate the historic event.

Visit calstate.edu/CSUniverse/roadtrip to learn more.